RE: Comments on the revised draft dispatch operating target tariff language

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the updated dispatch operating target tariff language. NCPA submits the following comments/questions for your consideration:

1. The updated tariff language specifies the CAISO can issue Dispatch Instructions and Operating Instructions. How will the market participants know whether the CAISO is issuing a Dispatch Instruction or an Operating Instruction?
2. If the CAISO issues an Operating Instruction using written electronic communications, how will the CAISO know that the market participant received and acknowledged the written electronic communication?
3. Following up on Question #2, if the CAISO determines the market participant has not received or acknowledged the written Operating Instruction, will the CAISO follow up with a phone call to the market participant, and issue a verbal Operating Instruction?
4. If the CAISO issues an Operating Instruction using written electronic communications through a System Operating Message (SOM), will the SOM containing the Operating Instruction show up in the ADS application as a pop up message with audible alarm to alert the market participant?
5. If the CAISO issues an Operating Instruction using written electronic communications through a System Operating Message (SOM), can the market participant call the CAISO for clarification or questions concerning the SOM?

Thank you,

Dennis Sismaet
