

Peak Reliability offers the following comment on the “Aliso Canyon Electric Gas Coordination Straw Proposal”

Peak believes that it is important for compensation and penalty mechanisms to appropriately incent reliability performance. Due to the potential penalties generator operators may incur based on gas balancing restrictions, there may be incentives contrary to actions to preserve reliability. Therefore, Peak recommends that compensation mechanisms be developed to make generator operators whole when redispatch is necessary for electric reliability and does not impact gas reliability.

Michelle Mizumori
Director of Strategy and Organizational Performance
Peak Reliability
7600 NE 41st St, Suite 150
Vancouver, WA 98662-7934
Office: 360.213.2320
Mobile: 360.448.9914
www.peakrc.com